Interesting News of the Week

The Most Important Happenings of the Week As Told by our Correspondents

Dalton Dots.

Fourth of July passed off very quietly in our little city as the majority of the people either went to Keytesville or on the cut off to fishing.

Mrs. W. L. Meyer of Corder, Mo., is here with Mr. and Mrs. John Henning and visiting her former friends.

Mrs. Louise Siegler and Coy Bros., of south of town are sporting new buggies bought of our repair man, L. A. Coleman.

Miss Minnie Botts who has been attending a business college in Kansas City for the last three months returned last week to her home south of town.

As everything else is rain, the news are dried up and scarce for this week.

Geo. Hechler Jr., returned last week from Tarkio, Mo., where he had been visiting a friend of his whom he met while he was attending the University at Columbia three or four years ago.

Miss Lillian Munn and Henry Sielman visited in Neodesha Sunday.

Salisbury Scribbings

Word comes from Fayette of the death of the little son of C. A. Dooley and wife, who were there on a visit, prior to leaving for Holt county where they will reside in future. This is a sad blow to the parents, and all sympathize with them.

The 4th passed off quietly here save for the noise nuisance. The small boy and the cannon cracker made life miserable for the day. Many of our people celebrated elsewhere.

Mrs. Alle Gallemore has been on the sick list a few days but is improving.

A barn belonging to Bert Edie south of town, was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon. We did not get all the details, but learn that one horse, a buggy, considerable grain and hay were consumed in the fire. There was $400 insurance on the barn and some on horse. Bert seems to be having a hard streak of luck.

Hon. J. H. Whitecotton of Moberly was in our city on business a few hours Wednesday.

W. R. Sweeney is remodeling the post office building.

Savoy W. Perian the new proprietor of the Democrat is taking hold in earnest and promises to make things hum in spite of hot weather.

R. J. Hurt whose illness we have noted, from time to time, died at his home, on the north side, July 4th and his remains will be laid to rest in the Finney grave yard, northeast of town. Jasper Hurt as he was commonly called, was one of the best men in our community, and his death at the age of 60, is regretted by all who knew him. He was twice married and leaves a wife and several children to mourn his death.

Goodbye Jasper, but not forever. On earth death can relations sever, but in that realm beyond the skies, joy reigns forever; love never dies.

Ennis Gipson and wife of Sayre, Okla., are in on a visit, and meeting their many friends. Ennis is making good in the land of flowers, and we are proud of him.

Mrs. E. M. Perkins died at the home of her son, Lovick, six miles north of town Monday, after a long and complicated illness. She was a noble woman, a mother in Israel, so to speak, and raised a family of which any woman might be proud. Her life is ended but her noble deeds will live for ages.

Monday morning about 4 o'clock the residence property, just across the street from the Baptist church owned by Mrs. A. Emerich and occupied by J. W. Gottrell, was burned to the ground, with most of its contents. Mr. Gottrell while trying to save some of the contents was severely burned about the head and face, and on the arm. The building was insured, but there was nothing on the contents. Our citizens contributed generously, and most of the loss was made up to Mr. Gottrell. About three weeks ago Mr. C. lost $30 in cash, and the same was supposed to be found by a Macon county man, but so far he has not returned the money. If he knew just how badly this old couple needed it, he would send it to them.

Dr. E. W. Johnson of Tulip Mo., whose illness we have mentioned from time to time, died at his home Saturday morning and was buried at Centralia Monday afternoon, under the rights of the I. O. O. F. He was a brother of our A. W. and leaves a widow and one son in good circumstances, financially.

The remains of William LaGrass whose death we mentioned last week, were brought here for interment and laid to rest in our city cemetery, after an impressive funeral sermon by Elder Helser, of Centralia, assisted by Elder Bassett. Truly a good man has fallen.

It looked good to him.

The teacher was demonstrating the powerful corrosive effects of roasting beverages upon a student's lung. The class looked on with horror when she poured on a tiny-five per cent. alcohol on an egg, thereby causing it to shrivel and gosculate. The demonstrator was pleased to observe the interest displayed by the junior who had come in for the waste basket. It was well known that he had need of such warning.

"Ma'm," he asked timidly, "wud you mind telling me where you buy yer liquor?"—From "Sunbeam Magazine."

Love gets around pretty well in spite of its blindness.

Eternity is the time between a proposal and the answer.

HOWARD.

O. F. Sparks who visited Fayette not many years since in the interest of putting a railroad through between St. Louis and Kansas City killed himself in June at Detroit. His wife an accomplished woman, is a raving maniac in a sanitarium, laboring under the idea that she is responsible for her dead husband's misdeeds.

Richard Luther Estill died at his home in Fayette and was buried the following day in Richard Cemetery. Aged 58 years.

Last week Gov. Hon. V. Stephens and business associates sold to the Pacific railway company, the St. Louis and Southern railroad running 44 miles from Versailles to Bonneville. The property has $250,000 capital.

William Wangler an aged business man died at his home in Glasgow last Friday. William Wangler aged 91 years was born in the city of Zionsville in the Province of Meissen Prussia, October 12, 1829. He was married to Augusta Troehoe, February 1850 and in December 1850 he with his bride started on a journey for the New World and it was not until three months later that they arrived in New York. He leaves two children and a host of grandchildren with a host of others to mourn him.

William Kersey was drowned

Sunday in Roebuck creek, a few miles south of Glasgow while singing Willard and another

young man waded out with the idea of driving the fish in the ne-

water was held by some of the others near the shore. Suddenly

Willard sank beneath the water and did not come up again nor could his companions find the trunk of him.

Esther Worthington, 2 year-old daughter of Levi Worthington, of near Glasgow, while playing accidentally fell into an open iron and drowned before the body could be taken out.

John Mauden Sr. aged 82

years died at his home in Glasgow after a long illness Friday.

Aged 82 years. He was a brother of our A. W. and leaves a widow and one son in good circumstances, financially.

Grant Allison, a well known farmer living near Aurora, while shearing his sheep, was handed

a five dollar note by one of his neighbors who owed him a debt.

He placed the money in a tin

can near by and one of the sheep

ate Allison killed the sheep

and secured the note.

John Mauden Jr. aged 82

died at his home in Glasgow

after a long illness Friday.

Five children with a host of relatives and friends survive him.

Harvey Dale and Miss Beth McCullough both of Fayette.

LINN.

Lee Gains formerly, of Linn county, died at his home in Freemont, Neb., Thursday after an illness of one week, thought to have been superinduced by a fall which he sustained about four weeks previous. His remains were brought to Lincoln

for interment. His wife and two daughters survive him.

The Santa Fe has recently installed the electric bell system at

Bucklin, as a means of warning

and protection to people who

cross the railroad inside the yard limits. By this method notice of approaching trains is given for

enough in advance to allow one

to get out of the way and thus avoid accidents.

The Marcelline bell boys got revenge, Sunday, from the Fort

Madison team, and won the game by a score of 5 to 4.
